

Cell phones should not be used during flight. Passengers are already subjected to cramped seats, crying infants and less attention to their needs due to understaffing of flight attendants. Adding people with cell phones will just amplify passenger rage. It also gives terrorists a great means of communication.